

2.14 Life below Water (SDG 14)

Imam Ja'afar Al-Sadiq University is concerned about protecting natural bodies of water and the ecosystem, and this concern is reflected in its policies. Hence, the university has held a number of workshops on spreading the culture of protecting rainwater from pollution in the local community and joining the community programs responsible for reducing water pollution. The university has also allocated a large part of its budget to support researchers in this field by working to implement their suggestions in reducing pollution of rivers and lakes to preserve water wealth. Some of this research can be found in (<https://ijsu.edu.iq/researchers/researcherspublished>).

Some of the conducted workshops about the dangers of water pollution (Imam Ja'afar Al-Sadiq University, Iraq).

