

2.15 Life on Land (SDG 15)

Imam Ja'afar Al-Sadiq University has always had a clear policy of providing spaces for land living while also striving to enhance the natural plant distribution in a way that assures the preservation of biological variety in the region around the university. Since 2020, Imam Ja'afar Al-Sadiq University has launched a project that extends for a period of five years, called "Rehabilitation of gardens and increase their area"., In this project, the specialized staff worked on studying the climatic reality of the university campus and developing agricultural plans to provide suitable plants. Student committees were also formed for the purpose of contributing to the improvement and increase of green spaces within the university, as shown in the attached pictures above.
